To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under heaven

- ◆ A time to plant and a time to uproot
- ◆ A time to pull down and a time to build up
- ◆ A time to weep and a time to laugh
- ◆ A time for mourning and a time for dancing
- ◆ A time to scatter stones and a time to gather them
- ◆ A time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing
- ◆ A time to seek and a time to lose
- ◆ A time to keep and a time to throw away
- ◆ A time to tear and a time to mend
- ◆ A time for silence and a time for speech
- ◆ A time to love...
- ◆ A time for peace.

A Time To Create

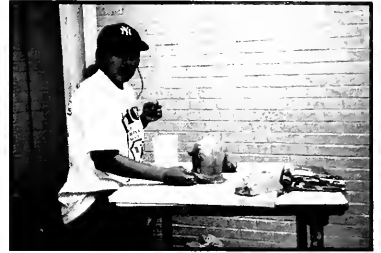

Union's art department recently gained new facilities and a new faculty member, Mr. Lee Benson. According to Mr. Michael Mallard, department chair, he's most proud of the faculty change. He said Benson has brought the department "3-D expertise," "great energy" and "a great role model as an artist."

Mallard said the new facilities allow the department to be more organized and attractive. The new gallery is approximately three times the size of the old one. The facilities include a resource room, storage space, a studio with a sunroof, a printmaking studio, a ceramic studio, and a gallery.

The art gallery displayed a collection from the Billy Graham Center Museum in the fall. This was the first time the museum ever loaned its collection to any gallery. The display included a piece by Mallard that he sold to the Billy Graham Center. He said, "It's been a long time ago that they bought it and it's exciting to see it again after a number of years."

The additions to the department have improved the mood for creativity and have enabled art students a better work area. Junior art major Alan Tucker considers the change "an encouragement for more productivity from the students".

A Time For Beginnings

Sunday, August 25, 1996 marked a memorable day in the lives of 353 freshmen. Moving into a new place, meeting new people, and entering a new phase of life proved to be both exciting and intense. Many students representing different organizations and ministries offered to carry belongings to the dorms for these students. Several church representatives offered food and drinks to the incoming students.

In addition to moving in, the freshmen were involved in a number of FOCUS-led activities. Susan Hopper, director of FOCUS, and 30 upperclassmen led these activities to help the freshmen adjust to college life. Each FOCUS group spent time meeting, asking questions and relaxing through fun games to ease the new students into life at Union. The freshmen were not the only ones influenced during this time. FOCUS leader Stephanie Lee expressed that she "enjoyed meeting the freshmen and being there to help them make a smooth transition into college life."

CAMPUS DAY

A Time Of Unification

October 5, 1996 marked another Campus Day in the life of Union. Much time and preparation went into this day. Long before prospective students arrived on campus, students and faculty set up booths and tables to advertise their specific organization, ministry, or department.

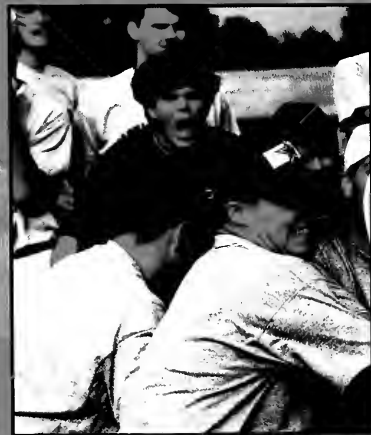

The Admissions Office sponsored the day and Student Foundations members gave tours throughout the afternoon. Ministry Teams from the Baptist Student Ministries performed while soccer and baseball games were held. The Greek Olympics drew a large crowd as the fraternities and sororities competed in spirit and in athletics.

Afterwards everyone gathered in the grove for a time of food and fellowship. Christian recording artist and Dove Award winner Clay Crosse closed the day with a performance in the chapel.

Campus Day was an important day for prospective students but also for Union students. Student Foundation member Sarah Aldridge enjoyed sharing her views of college life with high school students and being able to "sell the school by telling them what Union means to me."

SENIORS

As a result of the 1996 Fall Revival on our campus, The Fountain was begun. The origin of this daily devotional guide sprung from a conversation that senior Chad Lewis had with Campus Minister Todd Brady. Chad went to Todd's office to discuss witnessing tracts and as they talked, "the Lord began to open the conversation to a student-involved, campus devotional guide." As they continued to share thoughts, both grew excited about the idea and planned the first issue to be put together and published for the following week. Chad then began to talk with others on campus to see if they would be willing to get involved in the production.

"My hope is that The Fountain will help students have a consistent devotion; and with those who already do, it could supplement their devotions. God has shown me that many people get involved in so many activities that they work for God, yet they neglect their daily relationship with Him. My desire is that The Fountain might help those people have the desire to spend time with God in HisWord."

Chad hopes that others will continue to become involved in the planning and writing of The Fountain and that it will prove to be a successful and Christ-focused aspect of campus life.

"College is to learn what you don't know - to question your beliefs," says Stephanie Goode. To leave with an open mind and realize the endless possibilities of the world, she believes, is true education. Goode is majoring in Management/Marketing and minoring in Sociology and plans to attend law school to become a contract lawyer. Goode also has the talent to see other people with love and to have a genuine concern for those who are unlike her.

Goode has a vision of helping her community, and she credits S.I.F.E. for enabling her to see this vision. Having been involved in a S.I.F.E. recycling project, she saw what it was like to turn trash into something useful, and she applied this to her vision of helping her community. Goode realizes that there is much work to be done, but she faces the world's challenges with confidence and strength from God.

Despite her career-oriented plans, Goode says that her first career will be raising her family. She wants to teach her children the same beliefs that she has come to realize are keys to standing strong in today's world. She also shares these words with her peers, "Figure out your own opinions and leave college with an open mind, for that is true education."

After she graduated high school, Keli McAlister had every intention of going to Ole Miss. However, she did not have a peace of mind about her choice, and as she listened to God, she found her way to Union. She liked the school and knew this was where she belonged. She also knew that Union would strengthen not only her knowledge, but also her focus on Christ, and that was what gave her the answer for which she was searching.

Now Keli is planning for her career after college. She currently produces the morning show for WWYN _FM 107 and is the disc jockey on the weekends. As a communication/arts major with an emphasis in broadcasting , this experience will provide her with the skills she needs to become a successful news reporter.

Keli also has another interest in her life, and that is the mission work she has done with Global Outreach, which her father helped found. Foreign missions have always been a priority for her family. In Belize, a small third world country in Central America, Global Outreach has established a boarding school for boys 12 to 18 years old who are not able to attend public school. She has led Vacation Bible Schools there and also helped with administering medical treatment to the weak and sick students. Despite the language barrier, Keli relays God's message to the young boys because she feels she has been chosen by God to reach out to them. It touches her heart to see God's work in their lives and know she has been an instrument in His work. "I want to show the love of Christ, that is my goal."

JUNIORS

Angie Brown, a junior Chemistry major from Millington, Tennessee, achieved a feat this year that many of us could not imagine and could not even begin to accomplish. Angie ran in the Andrew Jackson Marathon! She did not tell anybody of her plans to run, not even her parents. She finished the race, but admits that she owes a lot of credit to a man she met in the race. "He ran the majority of the race with me and just encouraged me and gave me advice to help me finish." Despite the fatigue and physical pain of the race, Angie was proud of herself for actually setting a goal and obtaining it.

She compares her running with her Christian life and explains that "you can't look to others as you run, you must look to Christ." Angie also relies on some familiar scripture to illustrate this idea: "Let us throw off everything that hinders...and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us." (Hebrews 12:1) She also relies on Philippians 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ who gives me strength." Because of her marathon-running experience and the training she has endured physically and spiritually, Angie characteristically offers one final thought - "If Oprah can do it, so can I!"

Susanne Walton's story of how she got to Union is a unique one. This "missionary kid" from Burkina Faso, West Africa admits that Union was the only school she applied to that sent a catalog. "I figured if they cared enough to pay a little extra postage, then it was really worth looking into." She devoted the issue to prayer and felt God was leading her here.

Susanne, a junior Early Childhood/Special Education major, is serving as president of MuKappa. This year there are twenty missionary kids from fourteen different countries. Susanne believes that being an MK is truly a gift from God. "Sure, it is really tough at times being on ocean away from your family, but that's where MuKappa comes in as a sort of support group for children of foreign missionaries." This year Union is hosting the annual MK retreat in the spring with about 150 MK's from all over the world attending.

Being so far away from home is difficult, especially for the MK's here on campus. Susanne admits "they say home is where your heart is - someday it may change, but right now my heart is still in Africa. I am already counting the days until Christmas 1997 when I can go home!"

The girl who said "I would not send my dead dog to Union" is now a Union pre-law student who dreams to someday be a Supreme Court Justice. Lori Moyers, a Methodist, planned to attend Lambuth, but its hills and steps steered her path to Union. Moyers has cerebral palsy.

She said people sometimes see it before they see her. She said, "I don't get up in the morning and look in the mirror and say "Oh, I have cerebral palsy." She added, "If I could just get people to understand it's not all of who I am, but it is a part of me, and I am comfortable with that and it's my desire to make them as comfortable as possible."

She said some people assume that she needs help and speak down to her like she is a child. The twenty year-old is anything but a child. Moyers enjoys public speaking, debating, and writing. She is a member of the College Republicans, pre-legal society, and YEMMA.

Moyers said she was saved on-campus in February 1995 after a friend witnessed to her. She said that as a Christian she's "had to learn to balance" her "stubborn determination with grace."

Tony Traugher is more than a BSM president. According to his friends, personality traits like his creativity, openness, and honesty set him apart from other people--not his office.

John Lassiter said that if there is one thing that sets Tony apart from other people it's "definitely his personality. He's always open with everybody and he's very genuine."

Jennifer Allen said, "He presents truth in just a different way that makes you go 'wow!'"

Tony said he thinks a good leader should illustrate "servanthood, humility, excitement, and imagination."

The Christian Studies and English double major is almost always seen smiling around campus.

He said, "That's just something that I feel like God's given me."

He added, "It's so easy to get trapped and to lose sight of the abundant life that you're called to."

When asked what he would like people to know about him, he said, "I pray that they would see God in me and know that there is more to life than what we make it. My desire is that when someone sees me that they see something different - abundant life."

SOPHOMORES

Kelly Swain, a sophomore from Michigan, answered God's call to summer missions by going to Karamay in northwest China. She spent a month there teaching English.

Swain went to China with a group from Louisiana College. Each member of the group taught about 30 students ranging from junior high students to adults. Swain said they taught mostly conversational skills. Swain said that the Christians could not initiate talk about their faith, but if students asked she was allowed to answer their questions.

"I may have had one student who was a Christian. She asked me if I believed in God," Swain said. When Swain answered yes, the student said "Oh, me, too! Me too!"

Swain had a teaching partner from the university in China. Most of the teaching partners knew about Jesus and asked the Americans questions.

Swain said that the Chinese have a very different outlook on life. She said there is more of a sense of community and they they are "not as individualistic." She also said that they spend a lot more time together than Americans do. Swain said, "God taught me about not judging others." She added, "I also learned how much we take things for granted."

When Nathan Sawyer was first asked to assume the position of FCA President, he admits that he was unsure and scared. Now Nathan realized that God doesn't need his talents. He just needs him to be available and willing to allow God to lead in every aspect of his life. A sophomore from Millington, Tennessee, Nathan believes the primary goal of FCA is "to share the love God showed us by sending His Son to die on the cross for our sins with every athlete on this campus."

Nathan is also a member of the baseball team. He loves the sport, but understands that baseball is not the most important thing in his life. "It's my prayer that when others see me, they don't see a baseball player, but they see someone who loves Jesus Christ with everything he's got (Luke 10:27) and is doing his best to follow Him."

Family love and support are also important to Nathan. Their encouragement flows through his life as he strives to be an encouragement to others. As far as the future is concerned, Nathan feels he may become a teacher and a coach or even work with children. Wherever God leads, Nathan knows that His plans are perfect and the only "true joy in life is through Christ."

FRESHMEN

“In Laos, there’s no cowboys,” and Bounhom Mitsamphanh should know, considering that’s one of the many places that she has lived. Bounhom, or Hom, as her friends call her, lived in Laos until she was five. When communists took over the country, her family moved to Thailand. They then went to the Philippines to learn English, before finally settling in Nashville, Tennessee where Hom has lived for the past ten years.

When asked what the most important thing she could tell others, Hom replied, “I would say my salvation, because I think that God has a plan for my whole family to come over here and be saved.”

She explained, “If I had never come here I would never have known the God who created me.” Hom has a great burden for Laos. She said, “Laos is not opened up for missionaries and their main religion is Buddhism.”

She said, “That’s why I wanted to come to Union to learn about Christianity and I’m thinking about being a missionary.”

She said it is hard to witness to her Laotian friends, because Laotian customs and traditions deeply influence their religion.

She said, “When I tried to tell my high school friends about Christ’s love, they would straight out tell me that I was forgetting my own race.”

Sarah Merillat likes to visit the past. Merillat, although not yet a member, is involved with the Society for Creative Anachronism, which she defined as “a medieval reenactment group.”

She explained, “We dress up like people in the Middle Ages and research things that were done then and do them now.”

Merillat first became interested in the society after attending a demonstration at the Hidalgo County Museum in Edinburg, Texas. “I’m not a member yet, but you don’t really have to be a member to participate in the activities,” she said.

Merillat is learning calligraphy like they did in illuminated manuscripts such as the Bible.

She said, “I’d like to learn fencing, but that’s expensive.”

The freshman is also distantly related to the Bloody Queen Mary through her mother, although she is not sure what the connection is.

"I came up here and felt at home and thought that I could be happy here. I knew then that Union was where I needed to be." Mary Bea Skinner felt confident that her college life was meant to be spent at Union.

Mary Bea is a Special Education major and has spent several summers working at the Special Friends Camp. This camp is primarily for the mentally and physically handicapped and Mary Bea gained many treasured memories from the time spent there. "I learned a lot about love and accepting others as they are. The campers were not upset about the lives they had been given. They were happy and they didn't want people feeling sorry for them." She feels that she actually learned more about herself, others, and unconditional love than the camper did. She also credits God for blessing her through the experience and for giving her patience to share His love with others.

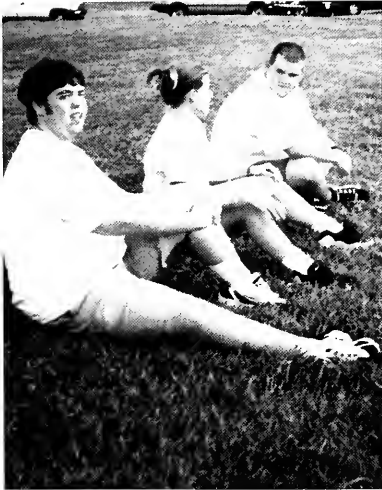

Mary Bea also had the opportunity to serve as an activator with Atlanta International Ministries during the Olympics this past summer. "Through this experience God taught me how to better witness in just the every day activities of life - through my smile, my actions, and my words. It was awesome just being at the Olympics and seeing how the gospel was spread there."

Dear Carrie,

It is hard to say in words what having you as MY sister means, but if I had to come up with one word it would be BLESSED. Always take comfort in knowing the Lord has given His angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways (Psalms 91:11). As you battle I pray you always battle in victory by adorning yourself in the whole armor of God (Ephesians 6) through prayer.

Years will come and friends will go, but the Lord will never leave nor forsake you. As you are a victorious woman (Proverbs 10:31), I pray you always honor God. When the enemy comes against you in your service to God I pray you will walk by faith and not by sight.

As you are hungry I pray you eat from the Bread of Life (John 6:35) and you thirst always after His righteousness. I pray you are filled with the Peace (Phil. 4:7) of the Lord and take comfort from His Word.

No matter how close or how far away your service to the Lord takes you I pray you dwell in the secret place of the Most High and that His truth be your shield and buckler (Psalms 91). I am proud and excited about your future and look forward to sharing in the joys ahead.

I love you dearly and I am glad you are MY little sister. I will always lift you up in prayer before OUR Heavenly Father.

Your Big Sis. Donna Grisham

Carrie,

I am very proud of you. I wish the very best for you in life. I am glad you put God first. The Lord will be with you wherever you go and so will my love.

Love. Mom

To my special little girl, that I'm very proud of and love very much.

Education is not worth much to people that are not willing to work hard and do their best. I know you have and will work hard to do your best. Just don't get shook up like that day you were driving at the bridge. Keep God at your forefront and be thankful for all in your life.

A very proud father that loves you dearly. Daddy!

CONGRATULATIONS,
SHERRY!

WE'RE
YOU!

LOVE,
MOM & DAD

TARA - May the joy you shared in the Lord then and now be with you in life's next journey. We are proud of you and your college and missions accomplishments.

Love - Mom, John, Tracy, Kent and Dad

CONGRATULATIONS,

Michele -

As one door closed in your life, a new one opens before you. Pause briefly at this threshold and know that what you are leaving behind is for the best...

Approach this new door with confidence in your heart, for you have so much to offer .

Open each new door with trust holding your hopes and dreams very near...knowing that the world is waiting for the goodness and the love you carry with your m.e.m.ro'.

We love you - Mom, Dad, Kym, Terry & Ian

Chad -

Henry Varley said, "The world has yet to see what God can do with and for and through and in a man who is fully and wholly consecrated to Him." That's our prayer for you. We are so proud of you!

Love, Mom & Dad

ANNIE-

You've grown up to be such a beautiful young lady whose love for the Lord is shown in all you do! Seems like only yesterday you were out collecting your "Important Papers" and now you get to collect your diploma you've so richly earned. We love you and are so blessed to have you in our life!!!

Love,
Mom & Dad

To my little "Sis" on her very special day. I am so proud of you and know you will make a great teacher!!

Gary

CONGRATULATIONS!!!

KRISTEN

You made it through the years of playing dolls, riding three-wheelers, waterskiing and now college. Always remember we are proud of you and love you very much. Keep your standards high and your focus on God.

Good Luck & go for it!!

Your loving family - Dad, Mom & Megan

CONGRATULATIONS,

Dear Paige,

We love you and are thankful for God's blessings upon you. Remember God has a plan for your life. A plan to give you hope and a good future. (Jeremiah 29:11)

If coaching is part of God's plan, you'll be happy and content. Trust Him. He loves you too!

Love,
Mother, Daddy

CONGRATULATIONS BRIAN

You have been a joy and a wonder from the day you were born. Peace and love will always be your companion. You will never want for friendships or understanding. May God bless and keep you safe in all you do and say. We love you very deeply!

Dad & Mom

Lori,

Since the day you were born your life has always been a source of great joy and pride for us. From the first day of school to this point in your life we have watched you take the talents God gave you and work very hard to develop them to their full potential and we are very excited to see what He has planned for you.

You will always be our "baby" but we also recognize the confident young woman that you have become and we are proud.

Congratultaions Lori! We ask for God's richest blessings on your life.

We love you very much - Mom & Dad

Audra,

God made you special in every way. You've touched our hearts and lives. We hope that you know no matter what changes the years have brought, or will bring, to our lives, one thing will never change...we are proud of you and we love you for who you are. And, we are ever so thankful that the Lord sent you to us.

Congratulations on your accomplishments.

You've worked long and hard. Our wish for you is continued success and much happiness in all your undertakings.

All our love,
Mom, Dad, & "Bubba"

CONGRATULATIONS, SON

You did it!!!! I'm so proud of you.
Good luck in the

CHANGES, just look at these. WE have so enjoyed watching and loving you as all these miraculous changes occurred. Now, our pride in your accomplishment sprinkled with melancholy of a quiet home forms a lump that is really hard to swallow, more changes. No Gear! Strength, character, humor, independence, empathy, patience, intelligence. You have developed some outstanding features during your changes. Our love for you - something that doesn't change.

ANNIE

How proud we are of you and what you have accomplished. You set your goals so long ago, and now we congratulate you as you look forward to your teaching career. There are some very lucky little kids out there just waiting for you!!!

GOD BLESS YOU

Grandpa & Grandma Childers

"Life is God's gift to you...what you make of it is your gift to God."

Courtney:

You are a special blessing to us and we are VERY, VERY proud of you and your accomplishments over the past four years. The medical profession is very fortunate to have you join them.

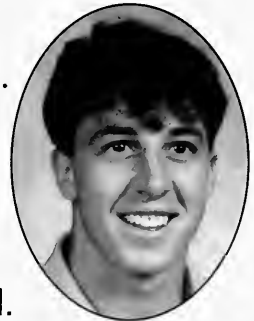

Congratulations on a job well done. We love you!

"Whatever you do, do all to the glory of God."

I Cor. 10:31

Bill, we are so thankful for you. Your life is a blessing to us because your heart's desire is to glorify God.

We love you,
Dad, Mom, Lili, and Janie

Tami -

Congratulations on reaching your goal! A college degree symbolizes hard work and sacrifice. For you, Tami, it symbolizes so much more. Determination, perserverance, and strong faith also contributed to your accomplishment. Don't ever forget how the Lord led you to Union and has walked with you since then. Remembering His goodness will give you the joy and strength you need for the rest of your journey.

We love you! Mom & Dad

Congratulations, Emilie!

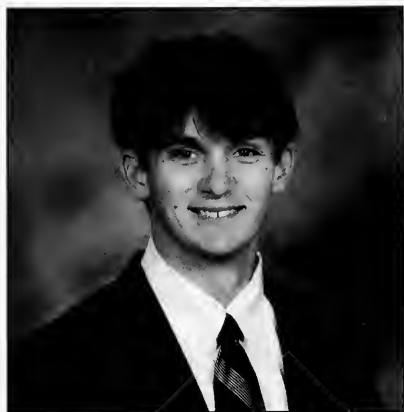

We are very proud of what you have accomplished through your hard work and determination.

We love you very much!

Stephen:

We are all very proud of you and what you have accomplished. Never forget your roots and where you came from. No matter where you go nor what you achieve, after serving God - FAMILY is what's important. Money and material things are only temporary, but with God and family, you will always have a friend. Always remember Bubba, we love you.

DORIE LANE -

You have truly honored your family, because you have sought first to honor God.

As you face your future remember:

"Be still before the Lord and wait patiently for Him; do not fret..."

Ps. 37:7

Dear Charlotte,

Your smile has always been a wonderful ray of pure clear joy to our hearts. Everyone you meet warms to your gentle quiet sprite; it is a healing balm just to be around you.

We are so grateful that our whimsical little wood sprite has grown to a strong lovely woman. We pray you will always be a healer, a listener and a comfort to those whose spirits are bruised. More than all our dreams, we pray you'll grow steadies and stronger in Christ's love.

Remember your high school byword - Psalm 18 - and your songs of praise - Psalms 34 & 139.

"If you continue in my word, than you are my disciples indeed: and you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John 31-32

All our hugs and love and prayers go with you always.

Love Mom & Dad

Jay B., MC and Laurence K.

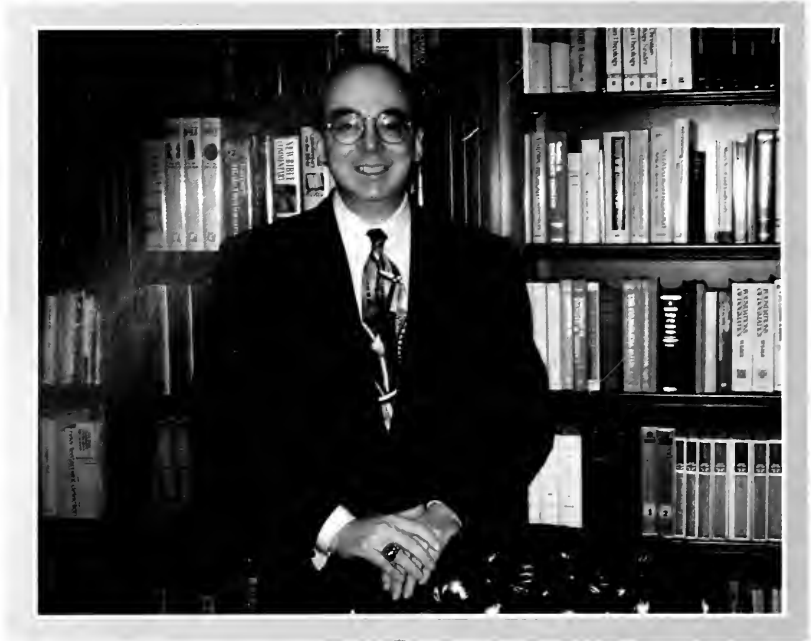

Marquetta "Q",

You have reached my highest expectations and you are constantly making me prouder everyday. Soon you will be graduating from COLLEGE and entering into a whole new world - a world of unlimited possibilities. That same level of motivation and determination that made you successful in college will also aid you in your rise to success in the world. Go forth and accept the challenges with great anticipation and vigor. I pray that God's richest blessings will be with you always. Remember "always put God first in everything you do."

Love you,

Mom
